Pedro Terán
Spirit of the Dance, 1949
Cast Aluminum

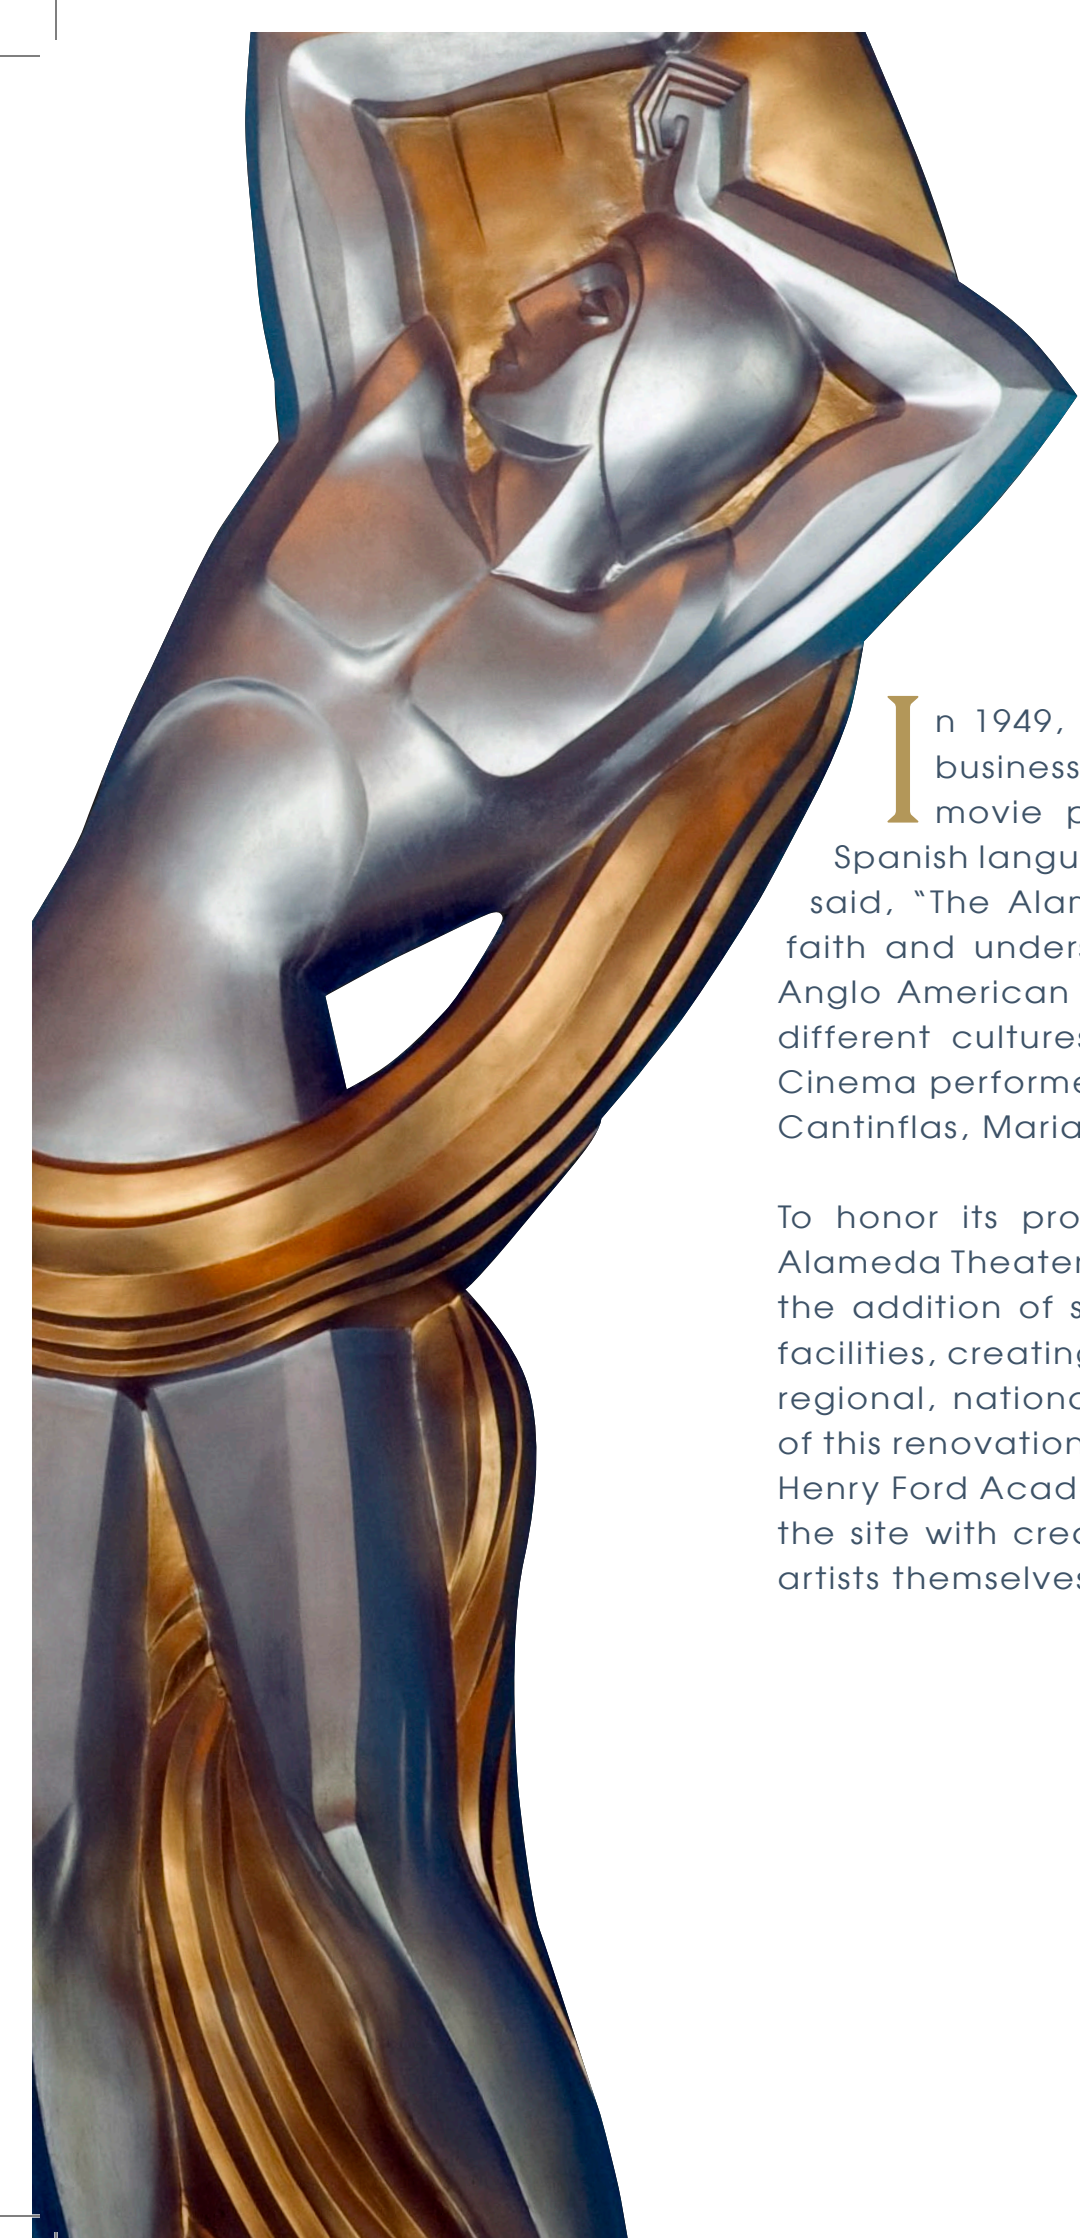

Pedro Terán, a native of San Antonio, was a nationally known artist renowned for his work with the Treichert Studios, Chicago, Illinois. For the Alameda, Terán designed the Spirit of the Dance in the lobby and the murals for the interior of the auditorium. Terán's design for the Spirit of the Dance evokes the soft, organically glamorous look of the 1940's and 1950's.

La Época de Oro

Celebrating the 60th Anniversary of the Alameda Theater

In 1949, Taño Lucchese, the legendary San Antonio businessman, built the Alameda Theater, the largest movie palace in the United States dedicated to Spanish language entertainment. At its opening, Lucchese said, "The Alameda will be a permanent symbol of good faith and understanding between the Latin American and Anglo American where they might share and recognize two different cultures." Stars from the golden age of Mexican Cinema performed at the Alameda, including Pedro Infante, Cantinflas, Maria Felix and Vicente Fernandez.

To honor its proud past and ensure its bright future, the Alameda Theater is being restored to its original grandeur with the addition of state-of-the-art technology and redesigned facilities, creating a spectacular venue for the celebration of regional, national, and international Latino culture. As part of this renovation, the Theater will provide learning studios for Henry Ford Academy: Alameda School for Art + Design, filling the site with creative high school students who will become artists themselves.
